

INK-LAHOMA or INKSHED 24 becomes 25

Alt words by Karen E Smith

(All) I-----nkshedding
where you have to think before you write.
Where the waving pens
can sure spell sweet, and the writing comes right behind the speech!!

I-----nkshedding
every night my co-presenter and I sit down by laptop (and talk) and plan a lot while ignoring the work we left behind.

We know we belong to the clan and the clan we belong to is grand!

And when Roger say-----s “Write! Can’t talk the day away!”
He’s only saying
You’re doing fine Inkshed members!
Inkshed 24!
(SPELL it!!) I-N-K-S-H-E-D-twenty-five INKSHED!!!
OK OK OK OK OK (3rd underneath in sync with spelling) INKSHED!!!

(Brent) Remember the beautiful stains of . . . (sung to the tune Oh, What a Beautiful Morning!)

(All) Oh what a beautiful Inkshed
Oh what beautiful phrase
I’ve got a beautiful feeling
Everyone’s writing my praise
Oh what a beautiful day. . . .

(Brent) And you may remember (sung to the tune I’m Just a Girl Who Can’t Say No)

(Theresa) I’m just a girl with writer’s block I’m in a terrible fix!!!!

(Brent) And don’t forget . . . (sung to the tune Surrey with the Fringe on Top)

(All) Peter, Mary Louise, Karen, and Geoff,
Anne and Miriam, Joan and Betsy
